Stretch your maternity wardrobe further

The La Belly Maternity Band is the must-have fashion accessory you can wear throughout pregnancy.

Worn around the waist to cover undone buttons and zips or conceal elastic waistbands on maternity pants and skirts, the La Belly band stretches your maternity wardrobe further by enabling you to wear your favourite pre-pregnancy and pregnancy clothes for longer.

La Belly Band made of ultra soft high-quality fabrics comes in fashionable colours. Designed in Germany, La Belly has been awarded in Berlin for its trendy and unique prints and outstanding fabric quality. La Belly is not just a maternity accessory; it is a statement about feeling good being pregnant and becoming a mum. Have fun and wear "9 month all inclusive", "Twin Share" or Little Princess", just mix and match your wardrobe and enjoy getting dressed every day.

Made of non-toxic quality cotton (93%) and elasthan (7%), La Belly Band also provides safe, gentle support to growing bellies.

All bands carry the Öko-Tex Standard 100 certification; the world's leading eco label for textiles. The Öko-Tex 100 prohibits or limits the use of known harmful substances in textiles, such as carcinogenic dyestuffs, formaldehyde, pesticides, allergy-inducing dyestuffs and heavy metals.

Available in two sizes S/M (8-14) and M/XL (14-18), the La Belly Band is machine washable and retails for $39.95. Go online at www.sunros.com.au to select a style or from stockist details.

Great news for expecting mums: the new La Belly Maternity Wear Collection will be available this summer in Australia.
